A map of Maryland with a dark background. Numerous colored pins are scattered across the state, representing various healthcare locations. The pins are color-coded: green for Pharmacies, orange for Mass Vaccination Sites, blue for Hospital Sites, yellow for Local Health Departments, and purple for Assisted Living Facilities. The pins are most densely clustered in the central and eastern parts of the state, particularly around the Baltimore and Washington, D.C. areas. The map also shows major water bodies like the Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River, and some major roads.
